

The New Now: Life After Covid

Thursday, September 24
11:00 AM – 12:15 PM

Presenters:

Ute Maya-Giambattista, Principal, Urban Design & Board Member, FOTENN & Council for Canadian Urbanism

Ken Peacock, Chief Economist, Business Council of British Columbia

Eve Hou, Manager of Policy Development, TransLink

Dan Gunn, CEO, VIATeC

Details:

The implementation of COVID-19 health protocols has required a singular focus on the present as we collectively rethink how we live and work. As we continue to adapt to the virus, it is becoming apparent some of its disruptions will have a lasting influence in how we are organized as a society. This clinic will invite participants to gauge the longer-term impacts of the pandemic in four key sectors: public transit; the economy; the workplace; and urban planning. Our panelists have been directly involved in the process of thinking through the long-term implications of COVID-19 in their respective fields and will provide a stimulating and challenging look at the adaptive path ahead.